documents intended for publication in the Frontier Guardian and read them, while he was reading

Councillor Snow came in with [=====]

Councillor Geo. Harris moved it was a well written peice, and approved by the High Council,, carried; in the affirmative..

some remarks by Councillor G. P. Dykes and Geo. Coulson.

Councillor George Harris then opened the business with [=====] showing him why he was cited before the council, related a conversation he had with [=====] his shop &c

[=====] then rose and made a statement of the facts, as he said, in the case, of the covenants between him and [=====]

and also how he had agreed with [=====] Councillor Geo. Coulson made some very appropriate remarks showing that a man must learn to govern his own body and lusts before he can govern and build up a kingdom, or kingdoms unto God..

He was followed by Councillors J. M. Benson

Geo. W. Harris, Wm Snow, Aaron Johnson,

J. G. Bigler and Prest O Hyde..

[=====] spake confessing, that had done wrong and had sin'ed in that and some other things, said he was sorry and hoped the Brethren would forgive him.. Councillor Geo. W. Harris said he was willing to forgive him but he wanted the stain wiped from the church
