Sister Barnard further testified that she after wards asked bro.

Woods if the cow was broHill? he said no, she belonged to bro Brigham and he had engaged him to winter her, and he was able to winter a cow for bro Brigham

Jacob Myers testified that what bro Brigham had said was correct and true,

Francis Williams testified the same was true,

B. F. Pendleton testified that the witnesses had told the truth, and that Woods said the high council was a Cursid set of fools, and he would be a cursid fool to give the cow up,

Oliver Strathan testified that the above witnesses had told the truth.

Jacob Bigler testified that he went to brother

Brigham to enquire if he had given Woods orders, to keep a stray, and when he came to talk with him he said he knew nothing about the cow, and that he place for strays was in the herd .. brother Wood acknowledged he knew of the letter authorizing certain certian men to gather all the strays .

brother Miller presented a letter from brother

B. Young,, which sated that he knew nothing about brother Woods having a stray cow and all he could say to the Council was to de right.----- Counselor Coulson then spoke on the case very plain and pointedly, showing the dishonest principle manifested by brother Woods..

Counselor Hyde then spoke on the case, pleading for all the mercy that could be shown the defendant

plaintiff Miller followed in his term,, and showed that he had sustained the three charges preferred against brother Woods..

Defendant D. Woods commenced taking and accused the witnesses of testifying that he knew nothing. some altercation took place between him and Counselor

Coulson on that point, Counselor Coulson showing there was no such testimony
